CHRONOLOGY

ALBINA NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT PROJECT

- The idea for such a program began in 1959 when John Kenward, Executive Director, PDC, and the Director, City Planning Commission, were asked to speak at an Urban League Workshop to discuss the future of the Albina neighborhood.
- Following the workshop, the Albina Neighborhood Council became interested in getting an improvement program started.
- August 1960 Members of the Albina Neighborhood Council met with members of the PDC. The Development Commission agreed to provide technical assistance to a citizens' committee of 18 in the Albina Neighborhood to explore the possibility of obtaining funds from the Federal Government for an urban renewal conservation and rehabilitation program.
- October 1960 The Council appointed Rev. Cortlandt Cambric as Chairman of a neighborhood improvement committee. He contacted various neighborhood organizations and property owners and the 18-member Albina Neighborhood Improvement Committee (ANIC) began holding meetings and gathering information about their neighborhood.
- ANIC sponsored a general neighborhood meeting attended by almost 500 citizens at the Vancouver Avenue First Baptist Church. The purpose of the meeting was to present the idea of a coordinated improvement project to the residents of the neighborhood and to find whether they were interested and what problems they felt were most critical. As a result of the interest shown at this meeting, ANIC encouraged the Development Commission to discuss the possibility of an urban renewal conservation project with officials of the Federal Government.
- December 1960 Officials of the Housing and HOme Finance Agency from Washington, D. C. and San Francisco visited Portland, met with city officials and neighborhood leaders and reviewed the conditions. They felt that a successful program could be developed in the Albina Neighborhood.
- January 1961

 The Committee members reviewed a proposal for a specific project area located between Fremont, Skidmore, Vancouver, and the alley between Albina and Mississippi Avenues. After a discussion of this area, they decided to gather additional information by talking with residents and asking the Federal Housing Administration whether they would back home improvement loans if this area were to be selected as the first project area.
- ANIC organized a detailed inspection of five structures by members of the local FHA staff. As a result of this survey, Director of the local FHA office reported that this area would qualify for FHA home improvement loans if it were to become an urban renewal project.

March 1961 Starting in March, Committee members visited 335 homes in the area and found the residents and property owners to be very interested in the proposed improvement program.

7/20/61 ANIC reviewed and approved the S&P Application.

7/24/61 PDC Res. #158 approved filing of Application

7/26/61 City Planning Commission approved.

November 1961 The Albina Neighborhood Improvement Information Center was established at 3726 N. Kerby Avenue as office space for Portland Development Commission staff, and as a meeting place for the citizens' groups.

11/22/61 PDC Res. #182 authorized execution of S&P Contract.

1963 During the past two years of activity, a street tree planting program was undertaken by the citizens of the area, and various alley clean-up campaigns held in individual blocks. monthly neighborhood committee and block meetings were held, and various subcommittees established to help develop the planning phases of the project. A planning subcommittee, made up of residents of the area, worked closely with various representatives of the City Park Bureau, PDC, City Planning Commission, City Engineer's office, and Mass Transit Coordinator's Office to develop proposals for an acceptable park site in the neighborhood. Five possible sites were proposed by this subcommittee and block meetings were held so that property owners would have the opportunity to choose the final park site. The ANIC approved the present location as the park site most property owners selected.

> City services (street sweeping and traffic control services) were improved; 300,000 feet of overhead utility lines and 200 power poles were removed; 22 new and 13 relocated street lights were installed.
