Dear Friend: I wish that you would do me the kindness to mail to the address of "Miss. Nellie Hemenway, Portland, Oregon, #227 Chapman St," one dozen Souvenir postal cards. Mail each one seperately, so that they will come through the mail. Nellie is making a collection, and I am assisting her. It is quite a fad here among the school children. Whatever the expense is I will settle with you. I hear good words about you quite frequently. It does not make any difference if you mail them all on the same day.

Yours Truly.

My Dear Sir:

Agreeable to your request, I have taken great pleasure in mailing a series of postal cards to Miss Nellie Hemenway and hope they will reach her in good order. I have numbered them in consecutive order and written a few sentences on each, so the whole will read like a letter, if placed in rotation.

Most cordially yours,
