Dear Sirs:-

By registered mail I send to you 18 blades for renewal. I also enclose fifty cents (50¢), which I presume is correct. Kindly return to me as soon as possible, as I have only two blades left. While I do not wish to criticize, for your own information I think you ought to know that some of these blades will not stand more than two or three shaves without becoming absolutely dull, while others last almost two weeks. As I am an advocate of your razor, I hope you will take these suggestions in the same spirit that they are given.

Yours very truly,
